THE ASSUMPTION OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN MARY

Holy Day of Obligation—
Tuesday, August 15th Mass
Times

Blaine: *Monday evening
(14th) 6:00 pm*

Blue Rapids: *Tuesday
(15th) 12:00 Noon*

Frankfort: *Tuesday Evening
(15th) 6:00 pm*

The Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary, which we celebrate on August 15, is that she was taken up to Heaven, body and soul, without seeing corruption. If the Blessed Virgin lacked original sin, then her body must have escaped corruption. It was fitting that she, who had kept her virginity intact in childbirth, should keep her own body free from all corruption even after death. It was also fitting that she, who had carried the Creator as a child at her breast, should dwell in the divine tabernacles. Likewise, in our day, full of its own uncertainties, we can take the solemnity of Mary's Assumption as an opportunity to turn to the Blessed Mother and hope in the promises of God to which she aspired. O Mary, Queen of Heaven, pray for us!

MARRIAGE MINUTE- How do you make decisions as a couple? In this week's readings, God speaks to Elijah in a whisper, while he gives an unmistakably bold call to Peter. If you are married, God will speak to you through your spouse. Here are a few principles of couple decision making that will help you hear his voice: • Remember that your relationship is more important than any decision • Share your feelings on the decision ahead of time so they don't interfere with your reasoning • Ask yourselves, "Which option will be in the best interest of our marriage?" • Be sure both spouses will back the decision if the consequences are bad Learn more about couple decision-making at "Every Day in Love!" www.JoyfulMarriageProject.com

FRANKFORT FOOD PANTRY- Please help us support our local food pantry. There is a basket in the back of church to drop off non-perishable food items.

Reflecting On Sunday's Readings

“It’s always darkest, just before the bottom drops out,” or so people jokingly say. In this week’s passages probably both Elijah and the disciples were feeling this way. Each found themselves in situations where they felt totally alone and abandoned. Each was buffeted by the circumstances that surrounded them. This feeling of isolation and darkness is an all too common experience for many. In the midst of doing our best among the pressure and stresses of life, suddenly negative circumstances take life right out of our control. A sense of foreboding begins to engulf us and threaten our very existence. We begin feeling cornered and abandoned, and start losing all sense of perspective. Though for Christians this should not be normative, we too often feel that Paul’s description of the Gentiles in Ephesians 2 as “having no hope and without God in the world,” really fits us. Fortunately, Ephesians 2 also introduces the phrase “but God.” This phrase, “but God,” contains two of the most poignant and hope-filled words in sacred Scripture. They introduce a divine interruption to life, on our behalf. Life’s circumstances are about to overwhelm us, “but God” appears to interrupt the turmoil and devastation and bring peace, calming our fears. He may appear either in a still, quiet voice, or in some miraculous walking-on-water event making himself present to our plight and involved redemptively on our behalf. We do not know how he will appear, but the hope that sustains the Christian is that most assuredly he will appear. God does not abandon his people. You may recall that the disciples had another nautical experience that revealed the nature of Christ. Their boat was caught in a terrific storm, but that time Jesus was with them asleep in the stern amidst the turmoil. He awoke and calmed the storm with but a word. This time they were having to deal with the storm on their own. Chrysostom believes that Jesus allowed this incident as part of their training: “Now he is leading them into a greater degree of challenge... This was all for their training that they might not look for some easy hope of preservation from any earthly source. He then allows them to be tossed by the storm all night! This had the purpose of awakening their stony hearts in a most complete way. ... He cast them directly into a situation in which they would have a greater longing for him and a continual remembrance of him.”¹ I don’t think we can conclude from this that Jesus sends into our lives all of the storms we experience. Many storms are of our own making, others are created by the capriciousness of people. However, in the midst of our storms we can pray that God will use it to break up our stony hearts and give us a more complete love for him and dependence on him. In the disciples experience in today’s Gospel reading, Jesus must have seemed far off. He went up to the mountain to pray and they were several furlongs from the land in a boat that was about to be swamped by wind and wave. But they learned that distance did not separate them from Christ’s love and care. Sometimes we too feel distant from Christ. He ascended into heaven, where he lives to pray for us. When life’s wind and waves seem like they are ready to swamp us we need to reflect on the disciples’ experience and learn that he is never far off, but is always ready to come and rescue us. Whether we are huddled in the dark isolation or buffeted by the dark threatening storms in our life, our responsibility is to listen for his voice and to look for his appearing. ¹ From Ancient Christian Commentary on Scripture, Vol. Ib.

NEXT Bible Study Class is Aug. 14th

NOTICE— The same Bible Study series being held at St. Columbkille will be offered in Frankfort. This will be held at the Annunciation Cigna Center and will begin at 12:00 noon. All are welcome! Each week we will meet to pray together, watch the video, and discuss the questions. Each week we will also be able to reflect back together on the daily reflections associated with the study.

Property upgrades: We have finished the hall floor; I hope you have had a chance to enjoy it. We are also working on several other improvements: expanding the parking lot, getting dividers so our CCD kids are able to focus better as they learn our faith, installing a sprinkler system around the church to ease the burden on volunteers and help the church look sharp, and perhaps joining our neighbors in putting in curb and gutter along East Ave, in addition to small maintenance items. If you have other items you'd like us to address, please contact myself or a parish council member. We are planning one breakfast fundraiser to help pay for these improvements, and will also have an opportunity to make private donations as well. My hope is that having taken care of all the physical aspects of the parish, we will have nothing left but to focus on the spiritual growth of members, and especially of non-members.
